Clients are advised to read the Declaration of Trust Fund Rules of the Fund, which may be obtained from the Trustee, before deciding to invest.

KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

Investment in UITF exposes the investors to various types of risks including but not limited to:

- Interest Rate Risk : This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
- Market/Price Risk : This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in market prices of securities (e.g., bonds and equities). It is the exposure to the uncertain market value of a portfolio due to price fluctuations.
- Liquidity Risk : This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss.
- Credit Risk/Default Risk : This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of security which the borrower issued.
- Reinvestment Risk : This is the risk associated with the possibility of having lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.
- Other Risk : Your participation in the UITFs may be further exposed to the risk of any actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of in-house or related party.

PSBank Money Market Fund uses a defined Risk Management policy in identifying and measuring level of risks. The Fund uses weighted modified duration in evaluating market risk for investment in fixed income securities. Modified Duration measures the approximate sensitivity of the value of the security to changes in interest rates. Interest rates have an adverse relationship with fixed income security prices so that an increase in interest rates generally leads to decrease in fixed income prices and vice versa. The higher the duration of an instrument, the higher its risk (considering all other factors are equal).

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Month-on-month, yields on government securities increased by 16 bps on the average with the 91-day T-bills closing at 4.24% up by 49 bps for the same period, as most markets players remained cautious and stayed on the sidelined ahead of the inflation print in November, while other players were seen servicing end-user requirements. Meanwhile, the government plans to borrow P135 billion worth of T-bills and T-bonds in December, lower by P80 billion or 37.21% from last month's volume. The Fund's 30-day and year-to-date absolute performance was at 0.268% and 1.092% vs. benchmark of 0.271% and 1.439% respectively, while duration stood at 0.09-year as maturities were re-invested in short-term fixed income instruments. Inflation in November rose to 8.0% from 7.7% in October (higher than consensus forecast of 7.8%). This brought the average headline inflation for January-November 2022 to 5.6%, still higher than the BSP's target range for inflation of 2.0-4.0%. The higher inflation was due to faster increases in the following sectors: food and non-alcoholic beverages group and the housing, water, electricity, and gas group. The increases were mainly a result of higher food prices due to weather disturbances and other supply-related issues, higher electricity prices, and higher transport fares.

The Fed is expected to raise its policy rate by 50bps during the final FOMC meeting in December with Fed Chair Powell stating that smaller rate increases ahead are a possibility but cautioned that rate hikes are still needed until there is real evidence that inflation is going down. Meanwhile, BSP Gov. Medalla likewise stated that the MB will likely increase rates by 25 or 50bps at the final MB meeting on December 15th and that the pace of rate increases is expected to slow in succeeding meetings in 2023. Looking ahead, these rate hikes may cause domestic interest rates to rise which, in turn, may lead to lower mark-to-market values in the short-term. The Fund will continue to maintain a short duration and may also benefit from higher interest rates for short-term fixed income instruments which could provide greater accruals for the Fund.
